Why get involved with a PCC?

The Postal Service offers training opportunities and assistance through Postal Customer Council meetings to anyone who wants to learn more about how using the mail can be a way to achieve cost-effective business growth. Whether you're a small or large business or mail service provider looking for training in direct mail and other services or you'd like to join the greater community of business mailers, we're here to help.

There are benefits to connecting with a local PCC. This nationwide network is a great way to get training, stay on top of mail innovations, and work hand-in-hand with a local Post Office to develop more effective, efficient, and profitable mailings.

Postal Service Urges Voters to Mail Ballots Early Recommendations to ensure ballots are received on time

WASHINGTON — Millions of ballots are expected to be mailed during the election season this fall, and the U.S. Postal Service is encouraging voters to mail early.

The Postal Service offers the following suggestions for voters this fall:

- Voters should request ballots be sent from their local jurisdiction with sufficient time to receive, complete and return them a week before the deadline.
- Voters are strongly encouraged to check with their local election officials for rules pertaining to their jurisdiction.
- Voters should visit their states' website to find out the locations of election offices and to get information about voting by mail.

Additional information can be found at usps.com/electionmail.

The Postal Service receives no tax dollars for operating expenses and relies on the sale of postage, products and services to fund its operations.
